Distinctive Priority of the Institution

Distinctive means clearly making a distinct as different from others. It focuses on giving a special look. Distinctive indicates qualities distinguishing and uncommon and often superior or praiseworthy. The Sheth Lalji Dayal Amalgamated Trust and its trustee members have distinctive priorities for the institution. The trustees work for the institution to be distinctive. It means HEI should be someone who does well and excels in education. They, the trustees, thrive to set HEI apart where the distinction means being set apart, often by excellence. When HEI is distinct from other institutions, it means HEI is different.

Distinctive Thrust Area of the Institution

Thrust areas mean the areas or activities ascribed to institutional development—institutional priorities and growth. The Sheth Lalji Dayal Amalgamated Trust and its trustee members have distinctive thrust areas for the institution. The infrastructure of the institution means the basic facilities and services that are necessary for its function and growth. Infrastructure means structure supporting basic institutional functions.

Distinctive Thrust Area of the institution is Better Infrastructure. It can facilitate better learning, improve student outcomes, and enhance the quality of the college's infrastructure. Distinctive priority and thrust area of the institution, as said earlier, is Better Infrastructure. It is because this thrust area positively correlates with the student's academic achievements. Additionally, the classroom environment, including factors like comfort and satisfaction, improves and enhances students' academic performance.

The Sheth Lalji Dayal Amalgamated Trust's trustees and college academics' commit significant resources to build and maintain various infrastructure to achieve better academic objectives and the holistic development of staff as well as students.
